2010 Annual Report to Donors
Our Thanks to You
Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as you ever can.

John Wesley
Theologian
(1703-1791)
Dear Friends:

There’s a kind of magic in the work we do at the Nemours Fund for Children’s Health. Whenever we open an envelope containing a check, download a gift from the Internet, learn of a generous bequest or accept the proceeds from an event to benefit Nemours, we see sure and certain proof that a generous spirit exists—and a desire to help vulnerable children.

Our promise to donors is to use their gifts wisely and for the purpose intended—whether that is for research, a specific department such as oncology or orthopedics, to provide more comfortable surroundings for patients and families or to underwrite health promotion and education programs.

The Nemours Fund for Children’s Health has increased its capacity to make the dreams and wishes of donors come true. In addition to our main Wilmington office, we have offices in Jacksonville and Orlando, Florida to serve the needs of contributors.

Our team has extraordinary capabilities in helping donors choose the right gift for them—whether that is an annual contribution, special event sponsorship, major gift or a planned gift that will benefit Nemours at a future time. We also assist individuals and organizations—and there are many—that want to sponsor an event and donate the proceeds to Nemours.

Your gift has the power to help and heal children. That’s the magic of giving. I thank you for your continuing partnership and generosity.

Sincerely,

Lori J. Counts
Managing Director

In the last six years, nearly $13 million has been contributed by generous friends to support children’s health at Nemours.

Dino Carbone—Inspired by the Mission

Dino Carbone loves everything about his job. As Administrative Director for Materials Management for Nemours, he is in charge of purchasing and contracting, shipping and receiving, distribution of supplies and much more for Nemours locations in Delaware and Florida.

“I try to do what’s best for the enterprise while also being sensitive to local concerns,” he says. Before joining Nemours eight years ago, Dino held positions at adult acute care hospitals and health systems. “I like the fact that I provide support for our caregivers and take a lot of pride in knowing that what I do impacts care for children.”

Dino, who was presented with The Inspiration Award in 2010, and his wife Deborah have been members of The Nemours Society since its inception. “I really believe in the Nemours mission. Kids are our future leaders and they deserve a chance to grow up healthy,” he says.

Dino also wants to set a good example for his sons, Dino, age 8, and Nicholas, age 6. “When the Annual Report to Donors comes out, I always point out that our gift is from ‘Dino & Deborah Carbone and Family’—and that includes them.”

For the past six years, Dino has taken on the added responsibility of serving as Sponsorship Chairman for both galas: A Night at Nemours in Delaware and A Night with Nemours in Jacksonville, Florida. His close relationships with Nemours vendors gives him an added advantage. “It’s a great diversion from my ‘day job’ and gives me a chance to help Nemours in another way,” remarks Dino.

“Simple words cannot express the appreciation I have for Nemours and all it has done for me and my family,” says Dino. “It feels natural for me to give something back.”

The Inspiration Award is presented annually to an individual who demonstrates personal generosity and inspires others to give. Richard T. Christopher and David F. Lyons, Sr. are previous recipients of the award.

“The sweetest lives are those to duty wed, whose deeds both great and small are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread, where love enables all.”

_Elizabeth Barrett Browning_
(1806-1861)
The Nemours Fund for Children’s Health honors its most generous friends through membership in the Jessie Ball duPont Society. It recognizes those individuals whose cumulative gifts to Nemours total between $100,000 and $999,000.

After the death of Alfred I. duPont in 1936, Mrs. duPont quickly set about realizing her husband’s vision of a hospital for children disabled by orthopedic conditions. With members of a distinguished Medical Advisory Board, she visited children’s hospitals across the country and abroad. Mrs. duPont worked with designers and architects, one of whom was Mr. duPont’s son, to guide plans for the hospital. From Duke University, she recruited the hospital’s first medical director, Alfred R. Shands Jr., MD. A nationally-known orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Shands was the author of Handbook of Orthopaedics.

The 60-bed Alfred I. duPont Institute opened to patients in 1940, just five years after the passing of its founder. Jessie Ball duPont died in 1970 after a lifetime of philanthropy and service to others.

A Win-Win for Children’s Health

The generous efforts of the nation’s fruit and vegetable growers and the Produce for Kids (PFK) charity provide a double benefit for Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children: raising funds to support care for sick children and promoting healthy eating for kids and families. Their innovative program is implemented with the help of produce broker JOH and 119 ACME stores in the Delaware Valley and Maryland.

Since 2006, the program has resulted in contributions totaling more than $102,000 for the benefit of duPont Hospital. “This is a remarkable partnership,” says Ryan Noyes, Manager of Government Affairs & Community Relations for ACME. “We are grateful to the vendors who make this possible as well as to our loyal shoppers.”

PFK raises funds for non-profit organizations that benefit children and educates shoppers about healthy eating through promotional campaigns in local grocery stores. In-store and online games and activities are available as well as resources for parents and kids.

Participating produce vendors donate a percentage of sales to PFK during spring and fall promotions. Jay Schneider, Produce Category Manager for ACME Markets, says, “When vendors hear about the program, they want to get involved. Hearing stories about sick children melts their hearts. We think it’s a win-win for everybody involved.”

“Our organization was started by John Shuman, a Vidalia onion grower, after his son was hospitalized,” says Kim Avola, Marketing Director for PFK. “He talked to the nurses on the floor about how the needs of the hospital were met and decided to get involved in fundraising.” Since 2002, PFK has donated $3.1M to children’s hospitals and organizations.

“Funds raised through ACME stay right in the communities they serve,” says Kim. “We have an ideal mission, encouraging families to choose fresh, healthy foods and cook together, as well as helping to raise funds to meet the needs of children.”

“I was pleased to lend my support to The Shands/MacEwen Endowed Chair of Orthopaedic Surgery at Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children. Having this endowment will complement our international reputation for excellence and energize our orthopaedic research program. There is no better way to honor the legacy of Dr. Shands and Dr. MacEwen.”

“I gave generously to the Garrett Lyons Sr., DDS Children’s Dental Program in memory of and to honor a giant of a man who devoted his life to helping others, many of them children who needed dental care only Nemours could provide. He exemplified the high professionalism and dedication of the medical staff who have worked for many years behind that high stone wall.”

The D.O. Believe Foundation

Dominic Osorio was a strong-willed, rambunctious boy of five, funny and observant of life. When he was only five, the unthinkable happened. Dominic was diagnosed with a brain tumor. Although he endured two surgeries, chemotherapy and radiation, Dominic never complained.

Dominic loved superheroes so much that his grandmother nicknamed him The Dominator. As he began radiation treatments, Dominic’s mother and the rehabilitation staff invented a story for him about how The Dominator would lie perfectly still while the radiation machine attacked the “evil megazoid” in his head. Unfortunately all the efforts of his doctors and nurses could not stop the cancer from growing.

Eventually, Dominic slipped into a coma from which he would not emerge. He died on November 19, 2009. “Dominic always believed in tomorrow,” says his mother, Nicole Spagna of Bel Air, Maryland.

“There was a huge outpouring of support from the community as his story became known through newspaper articles and television coverage,” remembers Nicole. “People wanted to give him toys, but I knew that research was far more important. It was infuriating to be told that there were no more options for my son and to know that so little money is dedicated to pediatric cancer research.”

Less than a year after Dominic passed away, Nicole established The D.O. Believe Foundation in memory of her son. The Dominator 5K Walk and Run was its first major fundraising effort. Sponsored by her company, Blue Dot Services of Maryland, the event attracted 400 participants and raised $20,000. Nicole decided to donate the proceeds to the Nemours Center for Childhood Cancer Research.

“I will live with this loss for the rest of my life,” comments Nicole. “Raising this money for research helps me change things for kids. I see the researchers at Nemours as the right people to help me stop this monster.”

The Dominator 5K Walk and Run will be held in Forest Hill, Maryland on September 3, 2011. Visit www.dobelieve.org to learn more.
How Your Gift Helps Children

With contributions from generous donors, Nemours can do even more for children. In 2010, gifts helped to support patient care, advance life-saving research, provide services for families and make educational opportunities available for both families and health care professionals.

• Through the generosity of the Bank of America Charitable Foundation, a Tumor Bank has been established to store tissue samples for use in discovering new drugs to treat childhood cancers.

• A gift from Vistakon, Inc. made it possible to acquire specialized equipment for ophthalmologists at Nemours Children’s Clinic, Jacksonville to map the corneal surface of children’s eyes.

• Activity tables were purchased for the playrooms, lobby and waiting areas in Nemours Children’s Clinic, Pensacola as well as individual packs of crayons for children to help prevent infection.

• Books were purchased for doctors to give to children during well-child visits at Nemours Pediatrics sites in Delaware, encouraging reading and strengthening the doctor-patient relationship.

• A new audio/video system was purchased for live monitoring of trauma rooms in the Emergency Department of Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children. The operating room charge nurse can now see and hear about the types of injuries a patient has sustained and prepare for imminent surgical procedures.

• A gift from the Harper Family Foundation continued the Art Therapy program at Nemours Children’s Clinic, Orlando. The program gives children being treated for cancer and other serious illnesses an opportunity to express their creativity through art.

• A new research lab was established for the Center for Pediatric Auditory and Speech Sciences, which investigates congenital and acquired neurological, neuromuscular and anatomical disorders that can cause a child’s inability to speak, hear or maintain balance.

• A 1980s-era gymnasium on the ground floor of Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children was renovated to serve as a Sports Medicine Center. The Center includes a specialty sports floor, exercise equipment and therapy areas.

• Cribs and sheets were purchased for low-income families participating in the Safe Sleep for Babies program. The goal of the program is to prevent infant deaths due to unsafe sleeping conditions.

• Supplies and equipment were purchased for programs in Florida and Delaware to encourage children to make healthier choices for eating and physical activity.

when I began at Nemours, one of the first things I did was to make a contribution. I believe that we must give before asking others. All of us contribute our talents, but it goes deeper than that for me. I want to make sure that children in Florida have something better.”
Create a Legacy for Children

By planning a gift to Nemours, you will influence a future well beyond your lifetime. A bequest or other legacy gift will help children receive the best medical care possible, advance life-saving research and provide education and prevention programs for a healthier future.

The Nemours Fund for Children's Health offers several helpful tools to assist in your personal gift planning process:

• A Guide to Planned Giving describes various gift strategies and gives examples of gifts made through bequests, trusts and life insurance.

• Planning for the Future guides you through the process of planning your will or trust. When completed, it can be presented to your attorney or financial planner.

• Our web pages (nemours.planyourlegacy.org) offer a wealth of information, as well as a Legacy Planner and gift calculator.

Individuals who inform the Fund of their planned gift will be recognized as members of The Carillon Society. To learn more, contact Amy Bielicki at abielick@nemours.org or 302-651-4298.

“I believe in Nemours and in its mission. This organization is well underway in taking a leading role in pediatric health care. I joined the Board of Directors because I wanted to be a part of that. The gift I have planned through my will allows me to continue that commitment following my Board service.”

The 201-foot Carillon is an eloquent reminder of the legacy of Alfred I. duPont. The 31 cast bronze bells chime on the quarter hour and play music on the hour.

The Carillon was built as a memorial to Mr. duPont's parents. It is his final resting place as well as that of Jessie Ball duPont and Edward Ball, Mr. duPont’s trusted business partner and Jessie’s brother.
Dan Mundy—A Wish to Care For Children

Dan Mundy has a simple but heartfelt philosophy. “I want to help take care of children who haven’t had a chance,” says the Orlando, Florida resident. “My belief is that we all ought to give to help others.”

Dan and his wife Jan own Balloons on the Run, a successful balloon decoration business she started in the early 1990s and he joined six years ago after a long career as an airline agent. “We probably provide balloons for half of the charitable events in the Orlando area because our prices are reasonable,” he laughs. “It can get pretty hectic.”

“I first learned about Nemours when I heard about the new hospital being built in Orlando,” says Dan. “I attended an open house to find out more. There is nothing that deserves more support than kids who are ill, whether they have cancer, heart disease or a chronic condition like diabetes or asthma.”

Dan chose to support Nemours Children’s Hospital with a bequest through his will. “I know that Jan and our two grown children will be comfortable—everything is in place. But I also wanted to have something in perpetuity to account for my time on earth,” he remarks.

“During my days with the airline, I came to know an organization that brought children with life-threatening health conditions and their families to Orlando for a few days of fun.” says Dan. “They had a desk in the terminal to welcome families when they arrived. I saw these children come through the airport each day and it made me realize what children and families go through when they are coping with cancer and other diseases.”

“If I could make one wish come true through my gift to Nemours, it would be to extend children’s lives, hopefully to adulthood, and help them be able to do things other kids do,” says Dan.

Friends Raising Funds for Nemours

If you need proof of generosity and kindness in this world, look no further than the wonderful friends who sponsor events for the benefit of children’s health and contribute the funds they raise to Nemours.

In 2010, $240,431 was raised through nearly 40 events sponsored by individuals and organizations. Tennis and golf tournaments, walks, runs a fashion show and dinners are just a few of the events that were held for our benefit in the last year.

If you or your organization are interested in sponsoring an event to benefit Nemours, please contact Ellen Songle at esongle@nemours.org or 302-651-4383. You may also visit our web pages at Nemours.org/give for guidelines on sponsoring an event.

Luke’s Healing Heart

Meredith and Michael Murray are thankful that Luke, the oldest of their three young sons, has only a pale surgical scar on his chest to remind them of the heart defect that threatened his life as a newborn.

In fact, the Chester County, Pennsylvania couple are so grateful for Luke’s full recovery that they have raised a total of nearly $23,000 for the Cardiac Center at Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children.

Most recently, the Murrays held a series of 5th birthday party events to celebrate Luke’s continuing good health. “We are so grateful that Luke is able to have a happy, healthy childhood and want to help other children who are born with serious heart defects,” says Meredith.

Victoria’s Friends

The memory of a happy seven-year-old girl who loved to have bubbles blown for her was the inspiration for the Annual 5K Bubble Run/Walk, sponsored by Victoria Flick’s Friends Foundation of Middletown, Delaware.

“Due to complications during birth, our daughter had cerebral palsy,” says her mother Debbie. “She needed extensive physical therapy and special equipment, much of it not covered by insurance.”

The Flick Family started a foundation to help children with special needs receive rehabilitation and therapy services at Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children. “We want to share Victoria’s goodness with children with disabilities,” says Debbie. In 2010, the Bubble Run/Walk raised $5,000 for the Hospital. www.victoriaflick.org

Steve’s Bike Ride for Nemours

Kaitlin Sparks was diagnosed with leukemia at the age of three—a devastating experience for her and her family. She was successfully treated at Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children. “To this day, Michelle and I consider the caregivers that treated our daughter to be heroes,” says her father, Steve.

Today, Kaitlin is a healthy college student. Steve Sparks, Senior Vice President and General Counsel for Nemours, celebrated her 21st birthday through Steve’s Bike Ride for Nemours, a 900-mile journey from Alfred I. duPont’s summer home in Jacksonville, Florida to Nemours Mansion & Gardens in Wilmington, Delaware, with a fundraising goal of $100,000.

“With support raised from this event, many other three-year-olds with cancer will have a greater likelihood of a complete cure and the opportunity to lead happy and healthy lives,” says Steve.
Gifts From the Heart

Even children with very serious illnesses still want to have fun and play. Fortunately, we have many generous friends who help them do just that. Each year, Nemours accepts thousands of items from generous individuals, churches, schools, corporations and civic associations.

Toys, board games, DVDs, books, craft supplies, video games, dolls, new stuffed animals and other items go a long way towards helping children stay happy and occupied during days, weeks or even months in the hospital.

Our Child Life Specialists help children cope by using toys and activities to relieve stress, provide a distraction from medical tests and treatments and restore joy to the lives of kids who are hospitalized.

Visit Nemours.org/give to see a complete list of items appropriate for donation to Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children in Wilmington, Delaware or Nemours Children’s Clinic locations in Florida. We appreciate the generosity of friends who help children in this caring way.

The Gift of Time—Our Volunteers in Orlando

Volunteers are a valued part of the health care team at Nemours Children’s Clinic. More than 85 adults and teens give generously of their time. “It gives them a chance to share their skills and interests with the children,” says Jill Mondry, Director of Volunteer Services, “Volunteers add an extra touch to the care our staff provides for children and families.”

Clinic volunteers keep children occupied and entertained through arts and crafts, music therapy, “sew-ins,” and puppet shows. One of the most popular activities is the pet visitation program. “My daughter is a endocrinology patient,” says one mother. “She looks forward to her visits because of your great volunteer program!”

Volunteers greet patients when they arrive at the Clinic and also provide clerical and administrative support. “It’s a win-win for everyone,” comments Jill. “Some of our volunteers have even been hired.”

In 2012, Nemours Children’s Hospital will open in Orlando. “Our volunteers staff the Hospital’s Preview Center, giving tours and assisting with administrative tasks,” says Jill. “When the hospital opens, we look forward to expanding the program to seven days a week and evenings. Volunteers will be able to provide support to children and families in a new way.”

Visit Nemours.org for information about volunteering.
